G. Thomas Grace, M.D. received his M.D. from the University of Maryland, where he was elected to the AOA honor society, and completed Plastic Surgery training at the Medical College of Virginia in 1990. Since 2005, he has been the Chief of Plastic Surgery at St. Agnes Hospital. He began his affiliation with St Agnes in 1991 and has served as a member of the St. Agnes Medical Executive Committee since 2003. He has had many medical presentations and publications, including a presentation to the Annual National CMA Meeting in 2008. He is a busy family man as well as volunteering his time to High Scholl boards, and other charitable activities, including his medical activities in Peru, which will be the subject of this presentation.

Terri Grace, R.N. graduated from the U of Maryland school of nursing and is expecting to graduate in May, 2012 as a Pediatric Nurse Practitioner. She is a busy mother of six and a seventh child died shortly after birth. She has been associated with Global Health Ministries in Chulucanas, Peru, which she will discuss. In Peru, she served as a staff nurse in a pediatric recovery room in 2010 and a recovery room charge nurse in October 2011.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Essential Areas and Policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint sponsorship of Saint Agnes HealthCare and the Baltimore Guild- Catholic Medical Association.
